SENATE.

The concurrent resolution for the investigation of immigration matters was laid before the Senate with the two House amendments extending the investigation to the purchase of American industries by foreign capital and to the use of Bedloe's Island in New York harbor as an immigration depot.

Mr. Edmunds, at whose instance action on he amendments was delayed yesterday, said that he had communicated with the Treasury department on the subject of Bedloe's Island and had received a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, which he sent to the clerk's desk and had read. The letter states that the removal of the immigrant station from Castle Garden is essential to the good administration of the immigration laws; that Bedloe's Island is the best obtainable place for a new depot and that he would not construe the proposed amendment as an expression of Congress that there should be any interruption of the preparations for the change.

Mr. Chandler moved that the House amendments be non concurred in and that a conference be asked.

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY. Mr. McPherson opposed the motion and spoke of the proposed establishment of an immigration station on Bedloe's Island as an unwarrantable proceeding. When the statue of Liberty was erected there it was, he said, on the pledge, either expressed or implied, that Bed-loe's Island would never be used for any pur-pose of a commercial character. Now it was proposed to make it an immigrant station, and thus to destroy the symmetry and character of thus to destroy the symmetry and character of the island, which was now one of the most beautiful spots in the harbor of New York. He spoke of the efforts now being made and of the bill pending in the committee on naval affairs to provide the naval and of the pending in the committee on naval affairs to the naval and or station removed from have the naval powder station removed from Ellis Island, and suggested that that island might then be taken as an immigrant station. He hardly thought that the Senator from New York (Mr. Evarts), who had had so much to do with the statue of Liberty on Bedloe's Island, would consent to have the island defaced. A Conscience Contribution from J. M. B., Jersey was quite right in thinking so. It was

If the grounds were put in order by the government (as they ought to have been long ago) it would be one of the most attractive resorts for citizens and visitors of the great metropolis during the whole summer season. He suggested to Mr. Chandler that the easiest way to have the while on her way from Honolulu to Samoa to question disposed of would be to concur in the House amendment and to shave the matter ting into Port Townsend, Wash., will prevent her from performing that service at present, and another vessel will have to be sent to Apia.

Mr. Chandier said that he had no objection Admiral Brown, commanding the Pacific squadto the amendment and that he had made the ron, has ordered the U.S.S. He withdrew the motion and moved a cononce to relieve the Adams, which is under or-ders to return to San Francisco for repairs as currence in the House amendment. MR. CALL'S INTERPOLATIONS. Lieut. Steele's Trial Brings the Whole Army to Bar.

LORD CHURCHILL'S SPEECH.

The Mississippi Floods Are Unprecedented and Give Alarm.

INTERNATIONAL TIFF AT TACOMA.

CROOK ON THE STEELE TRIAL He Will Make it as Public as Possiple-Army Desertions.

CHICAGO, March 12.-Gen. Crook today, speaking of the court-martial to be held in this city on the 18th instant, at which Lieut. Steele will be called on to answer charges of misconduct preferred against him in connection with the late Dell Wild affair at Fort Snelling, said: yet been definitely determined upon, but it will consist of officers against whose impartiality and fairness nothing can be said. Every officer in the army is indirectly interested in the outcome of this trial. The charges of clannishness among officers which have been so freely made in the public press are in a measure true, but it does not exceed the bounds of der straps operate to shield him from the con- trol. sequence of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. It is my desire and it will be my especial care, during the coming trial of Lieut. Steel, that the investigation shall be as public a one as the nature of courts martial will allow. In issuing an order to the paymaster to secure a suitable room in which the court can hold its sessions I have instructed him to see that proper accommodations are provided for the representatives of the press. There will be no star-chamber business about it if I can help it.

DESERTERS AND MILITARY CONVICTS. "You have asked me my opinion in regardito the number of deserters at the present day in the army of the United States and the reason of the enormous percentage of military convicts throughout the country. You havpointed out how greatly this percentage is in excess of that found in the penal military establishments of Europe. Much study has been given to this problem. At last I think I have solved it. There is no analogy between the United States and foreign countries from a recruiting standpoint. We are an intensely enlist from purely patriotic motives. It is a popular mistake that this is only done in time of war. The moment a citizen dons the uniform of a private, however, no matter what his country west of the Missouri was a howling wilderness, there was no society there to ostracise the private soldier. He did not feel his position so keenly and the desertions then were not 50 per cent of what they are now. The same cause operates to fill our military convict prisons. ar) now. The same cause operates to fill our military convict prisons. A man losses his pride and self respect when he finds he is despised by the people he meets; that he is shunned by his former associates and is no longer regarded as their social equal. There are instances of oppression and they are no doubt found in the army, but there are swift and impartial remedies for those who seek them; but for loss of caste in the great court of public opinion there is no redemption. The people themselves are to blame for their atti-tude toward the unfortunate private soldier and its demoralizing effects upon him are too apparent."

LORD RANDY.

What They Say in Condemnation of His Speech.

LONDON, March 12 .- Lord Randolph Churchill, Staveley Hill, Mr. Courteney, Mr. Caine and Mr. Grey voted last night in the house of commons for Mr. Caine's amendment condemning the Times. The Daily Telegraph says that Lord Randolph Churchill when cooler will admit that the adjectives he applied to Pigott were more forcible than polished and rather spoiled his pow

The Chronicle expresses a similar opinion and says the speech was disfigured by rant. The Times says Lord Randolph Churchill, in an endeavor to pay off old scores, has perpetrated another of those blunders by which he contrived to squander the great opportunities a wide popularity placed at his command.

The Standard: "If Lord Randolph Churchill thinks it worth his while to sacrifice his career for the sake of entertaining a jaded public with apolis coarse vulgarities, that is his business. The portant.

The Inquest Begun to Ascertain Who Is to Blame. BUFFALO, N.Y., March 12.—The inquest on

Wagner sleeper. He said that he set the brake tight, proving to his own satisfaction that it can be set by one man and does not require two, as stated by Conductor Houghtaling yesterday. Before the session the coupling which connected the sleeping car "Salina" with the forward part of train was brought into the court room. The first witness sworn was Wm. M. Covey, train runner and check agent for Miller's bag-gage express. His duties were to go to Dunkirk and return to Buffalo on trains Nos. 8 and 12. to take checks when desired for passengers' baggage. He was the man who first discovered that the train had broken in two. He testified that on the night of the wreck he was performing his duties on train No. 12, which was smashed. "I commenced to work the train at Irving and Silver Creek, and passed through the two day coaches from the baggage car. I got nearly through the third coach when the bell cord broke and smashed the globes in the lamps over my head. My first thought was that we had broken in two. I stepped to the inct preferred against him in connection with the late Dell Wild affair at Fort Snelling, said:

"The personnel of this court-martial has not the case of the case. I went forward and informed Conductor Houghtaling that the train had parted. Mr. Houghtaling that the train had parted that the train had parted the train him he was up forward. The conductor sent me to tell him to come back. He then started for the rear end of the train. I told the brakeman that the conductor wanted him."

"Now, then, as to that cord at the end of the ear. Did it hang outside the door? Do you know of your own knowledge whether anybody pulled any cords on the train?" asked the coron a proper esprit de corps which you will find existing in the world. OMINOUS OUTLOOK.

The Mississippi Beats All Former High Water Records.

HELENA, ARE., March 12.-The river rose 2 inches in six hours yesterday and stands at 43 feet 5 inches above low-water mark and 4 feet and 8 inches below high-water mark. From the water in sight at Cairo it is a certainty that the river will go at least 3 feet higher here and this may be augmented by rains. It rained steadily here yesterday.

The reports indicate a stage of water between the Arkansas and Yazoo rivers 21/2 feet higher than any previous water. It begins to look as if the levees below here are bound to go.

OWENSBORO, KY., March 12.-The rainfall Monday night was the heaviest for years. The Patoka rose 10 feet in a few hours, inundating a tract of country 20 miles long by 3 to 6 miles wide to the depth of 3 or 4 feet. The air line track is covered with water for miles between Huntingburg and Ferdinand and washouts are frequent.

BATESVILLE, ARE., March 12.-White river ose 18 feet here yesterday and is now rising foot per hour.

Note.—White river empties into the Mississippi about fifty miles above Arkansas city.

New Orleans, March 12.—The Picayane's Greenville, Miss., special says: The river stood here last evening 47½ feet and rising. Reports from leeves along the Mississippi side up to 8 p.m. were that the principal leeves were still n good shape, but the strain against them was increasing every hour. A continuous rain, ac-companied by heavy winds, prevailed and some disaster seemed not improbable before morning. It had been raining very hard since 2 o'clock and was still coming down in torrents with no indication of any change soon.

The Times-Democrat Helena, Ark., special says: The river crawled up two inches during the last twenty-four hours and now marks 43 feet and 5 inches on the gauge. The water is 4 feet 8 inches below high water. The rise during the present week will be gradual, Beginning next week it will be more rapid and the highest water will reach here on Sunday. CAIRO, ILL., March 12.—A waterspout at Ullin, Ill., submerged the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad to a depth of about five feet. The Ohio river continues to rise here and the gauge marks 48 9-10 feet, a rise of threetenths since yesterday. The river is falling at Paducah, and it is thought if there is no more rain the river will not go over 50 feet here.

SUCH THINGS CAUSE WAR, A British Vessel Seized at Tacoma for Debt to Her Crew.

TACOMA, WASH., March 12.-About three weeks ago the British ship Craigend arrived here for wheat. The next day eighteen of her crew came ashore and refused to return, notwithstanding that they had signed articles for a two years' cruise. The captain was instructed by the British consul at Port Townsend to treat the men as deserters. The sailors then sued for their wages, and a justice of the peace sent a constable to take charge of the ship. constable is still in the possession of the ves-sel and refuses to permit her to be moved. The Craigend was flying the British flag at the time of her seizure and the lawyers say the case is sure to bring forth international complications. The British consul at Port Townsend is expected here today and will probably demand the release of the ship. A question has arisen between the constable and the United States customs officers as to the custody of two barometers and two compasses, valued at $500, which were taken from the vessel by the constable and placed in the hands of a jeweler for safe keeping. Deputy Collector Hayden claimed that the goods being dutiable should be turned over to him. The jeweler, under instructions from the constable, declined to surrender the instruments which were claimed by the deputy collector, who seized them as

An Architect Killed by Highwaymen, NEW YORK, March 12.- From Bellevue hospital was removed last night the body of Michael P. O'Connor of the East 88th street station was notified of McDonough's death last night and Detective Doyle was detailed to investigate it. Everywhere we went we were enthusiastically received. Some opposition to us there was in Australia, but it was confined to the Orange section.
